

THE OCCUPATION CANNOT BE HIDDEN

We stand with our colleagues at Human Rights Watch and their Israel and Palestine director Omar Shakir, and protest Israel's plan to deport him. An appeal against this is to be heard this week by the Supreme Court.

Israel doesn't want its citizens nor the world to see how it operates and what it does, but the occupation cannot — and will not — be hidden.

Closing the borders to human rights organizations and activists, and other measures the government is taking against those who criticize its policies, will not stop us or our colleagues around the world from continuing to expose human rights abuses in the Occupied Territories and fighting to end them — until the occupation ends.
